NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 7. — "Chief" Bender, Philadelphia's famous Indian pitcher, and Connie Mack's "100,000 infield" were responsible today for the downfall of the fighting New York Giants and for the first victory of the world's series. Score: Philadelphia 6, New York 4.

The Indians' steady pitching, coupled with the remarkable hitting power of the Philadelphia infield, disorganized the attack of the Giants and baffled their desperate efforts to win. Schang, the youngster picked up by Connie Mack as a catcher, also played a prominent part in the Philadelphia victory, catching a fine game and driving out a long three-base hit.

In an effort to stem the tide of hitting, Manager McGraw of New York sent in Crandall to relieve "Babe" Marquard, and Tesreau to relieve Crandall. Marquard, the star left hander, was hard hit and the changes did not turn the tide.

Both teams played a steady fielding game, the Athletics making only one error and the Giants none. In hitting the teams were a stand-off, except that the Athletics batted much harder and at more timely points in the contest.

The power of the Athletics' hitting is shown by the fact that Barry got a double, McInnis a double, Collins and Schang triples and Baker a home run. Burns, New York's young outfielder, got a double also, but "Chief" Bender generally kept the safeties well-scattered.

A crowd of 40,000 people saw the game, one of the largest baseball audiences ever assembled in New York. The weather was misty and it rained somewhat in the eighth and ninth innings.

Batting Order.

The batting order of the two teams, according to advance information, was as follows:

Athletics—E. Murphy, rf; Oldring, lf; Collins, 2b; Baker, 3b; McInnis, 1b; Walsh, cf; Barry, ss; Schang, c; Bender, p.

Giants—Burns, lf; Shafer, 3b; Fletcher, ss; Doyle, 2b; Mearns, 1b; Murray, rf; Snodgrass, cf; Myers, c.

PICKING THE WINNER

(Baker got a home run in the opening game today.)

Talk about prophecy! Here is what Grantland Rice, the noted sporting writer, says in the last number of Collier's about the world's series:

I thought of Matty's master brain
Plus master arm and all the rest;
I thought of Marquard's yearly reign
That stood before the slugging test;
I thought of Tesreau, Human Whale,
Of John McGraw's eternal science—
And then I gathered up my kale
And started out to back the Giants.

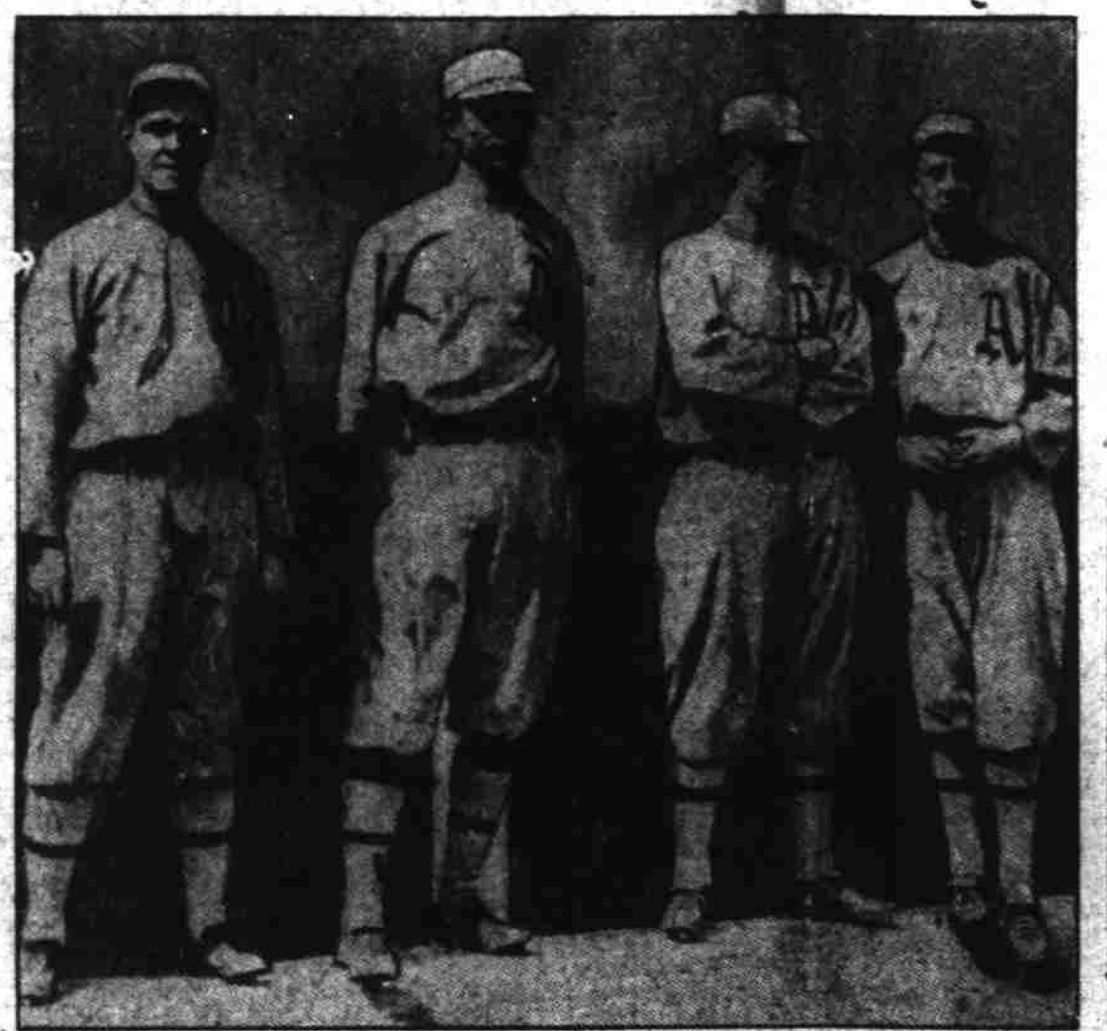

I thought of Meyers, keen of eye,
Of Larry Doyle upon the spot;
I thought of Shafer on the fly,
Of Murray's peg across the lot;
I seemed to hear the lusty roar
That greeted Burns, without a flaw;
And then I thought I'd borrow more
And make a clean-up on McGraw.

I thought of Fletcher reaching out
To snag a base-hit from the air;
I thought of McKim's mighty clout
Beyond Rube Oldring's distant fair;
And then—within a sudden lull,
I thought of Baker, calm and set,
Of Baker with the bases full
And then I thought I wouldn't bet!

STAR HITTERS AND THEIR VICTIM

HAWAII MAY EXHIBIT AT PANAMA FAIR

Promotion Committee Advised of Particulars of Exposition at Isthmus Republic

That Honolulu may exhibit at the exposition which is to be held in Panama the latter part of December, 1914, was the statement made this morning by the secretary of the Promotion Committee. A short time ago he wrote to A. G. Snyder, the American consul-general in the canal zone, asking for information regarding the fair. The letter was referred to R. F. Acevedo, minister of public works of the republic of Panama. The answer which Acevedo made to Snyder was forwarded, arriving here this morning. It follows:

"I have read with great interest and attention your letter in which you refer to the exhibitions which the Hawaii Promotion Committee intends to give at our national exposition. In reply, I would inform you that if the concurrence of the committee in our exposition should be of an official character, it would have to be directed by the government of the United States, which the Panamanian government has cordially invited, and whose answer we hope will reach us soon. If the Hawaii Promotion Committee desires to make a private exhibit for the propaganda of local interests, we would take great pleasure in offering it the necessary space in the exposition grounds, the rental value of which I will make known to you as soon as the topographical works and division into lots may be finished.

"I desire to further inform you that the Hawaii Promotion Committee as well as all North American exhibitors will meet on the part of the government of Panama and especially the ministry in my charge with the most cordial reception and all possible facilities in order to enable them to figure worthily in our national exposition."

HONOLULANS IN FIJI DESCRIBE SOUTH SEA LIFE

A. H. Ford Right in His Element with Organization of New Promotion Bureau

BY A. H. FORD AND JOSEPH STICKNEY
Suva, Fiji, once produced a Duke Kahanamoku, someone remarked to me as the Niagara anchored off Suva at 8:30 on the morning of the eighth day out from Honolulu. The outrigger canoes came from every direction. They are quite unlike the ones we have in Hawaii.

The principal difference is in the outrigger. The Fijian outrigger is of much more real value to the canoe than are the Hawaiian outriggers. They steady the canoe a great deal more and you may lean away over to one side or even stand on the platform across the top of the canoe and

LORD-YOUNG TO COMPLETE BREAKWATER

Big Federal Job at Hilo To Be Handled Now by Local Firm

PHILADELPHIANS, AFTER LOSING TRIAL, GIVE UP

Ed Lord, Now on Mainland, Comes to Terms with Original Contractors

One of the most important deals in years involving federal work in the islands was made yesterday in New York City when the Lord-Young Engineering Company of Honolulu and the Breakwater Company of Philadelphia reached an agreement whereby the Lord-Young Company takes over the construction of the Hilo breakwater.

News of the deal reached Honolulu yesterday afternoon in a cablegram from Ed J. Lord, president of the company, to James L. Young, treasurer and manager. Mr. Lord has been in the east on business for several weeks, and within the last few days negotiations with the Breakwater Co. rapidly developed to the agreement.

Mr. Lord is in Philadelphia today to close up the detailed arrangements, and will return to Honolulu within a short time.

The financial details of the deal by which the local company takes over the big federal construction job, are not definitely known here, the cablegram yesterday containing only the statement that the agreement had been reached.

The history of the Hilo breakwater contract now to be handled by the Honolulu company is an involved one. The first section of the breakwater job was built by D. E. Metzger. The Lord-Young Company built the second. The Breakwater Company of Philadelphia won the contract for the third section, underbidding the Lord-Young company by a small margin. The contract calls for the placing of some 250,000 tons of stone.

The Philadelphia concern's mismanagement and alleged mismanagement of the work resulted in the elimination of Charles F. Wood, vice-president and the man who was the active figure in the local field. The company's affairs, so far as the Hilo contract is concerned, were reported to have been taken over by a trust company some time ago. Soon after D. E. Metzger, who was largely interested in the company's Hilo work, stepped out at his own insistence.

FINGER PRINT SYSTEM MAY BE ADOPTED

Captain McDuffie Purchased All Necessary Paraphernalia but 'Hasn't Got Onto It'

A proposition to bring the detective department up to the standard of other cities by introducing here the finger-print identification system and the Bertillon measurement system will be made by the civil service commission to the supervisors through Chairman Wirtz, of the commission, this evening.

It is planned to recommend to the board that an officer of the department be sent to San Francisco to study the finger-print methods used there for identification of criminals and also become familiar with the Bertillon measurement system.

Chairman Wirtz said this morning that practically every city on the mainland constantly uses such methods for the identification of criminals, and that Honolulu cannot afford to be without them.

"The identification which usually comes to us of criminals gives their Bertillon measurement and finger-prints, and little else. Until the systems are introduced here, we are working at a great disadvantage. Chairman Wirtz hopes to be able to appear before the supervisors this evening to present the recommendations of the commission, which include, in addition to the one just mentioned, an increase in the forces of the police and fire department, and the installation of more police and fire alarm boxes over the city."

Captain of Detectives McDuffie invested some of the department's money in a finger-print apparatus some time ago, but Sheriff Jarrett said this morning that the captain hadn't "got onto it," so up to date it has been of little use.

HUMBURG SEES NO REASON FOR BAD BUSINESS

Cooperation and Close Economy Advocated by Hackfeld Representative

CONFIDENT PROBLEM WILL BE SOLVED HERE IN HAWAII

Businessman Returns to Honolulu Preaching Optimism in Face of Free Trade

Co-operation among the plantations, and close economy in producing and marketing, are the two suggestions J. F. Humburg, a director of Hackfeld & Company, and manager of the New York branch of that firm, who arrived by the liner Mongolia this morning, offers as a way by which Hawaii may successfully face the reduction in the sugar tariff.

When he arrived this morning, he was met at the wharf by many members of the firm, as well as by a score or more of his Honolulu friends. He spent an hour in a conference with J. F. Hackfeld, president of the company, and later was interviewed by a representative of the Star-Bulletin.

He does not see a good reason for a business depression here. He says that the tariff bill has made it necessary for greater economy to be shown in all lines, but gives it as his opinion that with strict economy and co-operation among the plantations to the end that the most efficient methods may be used for the cultivation of the cane, its milling and marketing, the situation can be successfully cooped with.

"We should not be gloomy," he said. "There is no occasion for it. If we get down to work, all pulling together for the common good, saving wherever saving is possible, we will come out with flying colors."

"We are not going to the devil here by a long way. Over the country there are voiced protests against the radical cuts in the tariff, which are called both unwise and unfair, as the bill removes the duty from one product and lets it remain on another. Still, I feel that we here in Hawaii will be able to work the problem out. Hard times have hit us before, and we have had grave difficulties to overcome, and we have overcome them successfully. I feel that we will be able to do the same thing in this case."

Humburg plans to remain here a number of weeks. He will visit, he says, the different islands.

ALOHA PLANNED FOR RETURNING BASEBALL TEAMS

(Special Star-Bulletin Cable)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—The All-Chinese and All-Hawaiian baseball teams are sailing for home today on the Sierra. Everybody happy and ready to quit the road.

SING HUNG HOE.

With the two baseball clubs that have been touring the mainland now started on the last lap of the homeward journey, it is up to Honolulu fans to think up an appropriate reception, and give the men of both teams, who have done so much good publicity work for Hawaii, a royal welcome home.

The All-Chinese team is returning from its second mainland tour, and for the last six months the players have been traveling from one end of the continent to the other, playing games in all the big centers, and meeting with extraordinary success withal. The team has won a large percentage of its games, and has trimmed almost every college nine that it has faced. The tour last year was financially a failure, and the loss was sustained entirely by the Chinese merchants here who backed the venture. This year, it is understood, the tour has been made to pay. On both occasions and especially on their second visit to the mainland, the Chinese players have been able to do a great deal of valuable publicity work for Hawaii.

The All-Hawaiian team crossed the ocean a few months ago to play throughout the Middle West, and besides disporting themselves on the diamond, the players "doubled" in a Hawaiian musical program, which was preceded by an illustrated lecture on the islands. This gave Hawaii a great deal of publicity in places where the islands are but little known.

Plans are now on foot to welcome the Chinese and Hawaiians home, not only as successful athletic organizations, but also as successful publicity men, who have given Hawaii a world of boosting, and deserve some public recognition for the same.

SAYS SULZER WANTED MURPHY TO STOP FIGHT

(Associated Press Cable)
NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Allan Ryan, son of Thomas Fortune Ryan, was again a witness before the impeachment court today. He testified that Governor Sulzer had asked him to ask his father's attorney, Delancy Nicoll, to ask "Boss" Murphy to stop the impeachment proceedings.

500 PEOPLE OF NOME HOMELESS FROM BIG STORM

(Associated Press Cable)
NOME, Alaska, Oct. 7.—Five hundred people are homeless as a result of the storm that has devastated Nome. Three bodies have been washed ashore, mute evidence of the storm. Three steamships are anchored safely not far from the shore and seven are standing outside away from land. The storm is abating.

JURISDICTION TO BE DECIDED BY AMICI CURIAE

Status of Judges Whose Terms Have Expired to Be Settled Thursday Morning

Assisted by D. L. Withington, H. B. Anderson and E. M. Watson, sitting as amici curiae, the supreme court will listen to arguments next Thursday morning on the question of the jurisdiction of Associate Justice Antonio Perry, whose term of office expired some time ago and whose place on the supreme bench, if one interpretation of the Organic Act is accepted, automatically became vacant at that time.

The amici curiae were appointed by the Bar Association yesterday. Without taking part in the discussion, they will hear the argument and later lend their assistance to Chief Justice A. G. M. Robertson and Associate Justice De Bolt in arriving at a decision. The situation confronting Associate Justice Perry is practically the same as that which Circuit Judge Parsons of Hilo and three other circuit judges of the territory now face, and the supreme court's decision may have material bearing on the objection recently raised against Judge Parsons in the matter of David Mattoon.

Judge Parsons' case, submitted a few days ago, has been set for hearing before the supreme court next Friday morning. By the time it is called Associate Justice Perry's status may be determined, and if so, the Parsons question may be somewhat simplified, so that it can be decided without delay.

The question of Associate Justice Perry's jurisdiction was not for argument this morning, cropping up in the appeal case of C. T. Wilder, the tax assessor, against John F. Colburn, but by mutual consent the hearing was continued to Thursday. An imposing array of legal talent was present when the case was called, there being in addition to the members of the court and the amici curiae R. W. Breen, W. W. Thayer, Leslie Scott, C. W. Ashford and Attorney Russell of Hilo.

'FIXING' ALLEGATIONS STILL UNDER PROBE OF TERRITORIAL JURY

The territorial grand jury at 1:30 this afternoon resumed its investigation of the charges alleged to have been made by Chun Kim Sut, that he paid interpreter Willie Crawford $1,000 to "fix" the county attorney's office. The presentation of the facts and examination of witnesses are under the supervision of Assistant Attorney General A. G. Smith, who took hold of the matter at the request of County Attorney J. W. Cathcart. Attorney Lorin Andrews, who disclosed the Chinaman's alleged charge in the course of a civil suit in circuit court last week; Attorney C. F. Peterson and Attorney E. A. Douthett were called before the inquirers yesterday. Their testimony "evidently" was completed yesterday for all were excused. Chun Kim Sut was called, but his examination was not finished and he was recalled when the session was renewed this afternoon.

Court interpreter Farm Corna and Willie Crawford were summoned to appear yesterday but had not been examined and both probably will be called again today.
